THE GRAND HOTEL MURDER

CORONER'S JURY RENDERS AN OPEN VERDICT AT REYNOLDS INQUEST.

Does Not Declare Dentist Kennedy Guilty in Spite of the Evidence of the Police-Kennedy Says He Ought to Have Been Experated-Sent Back to the Tombs.

Coroner Bausch concluded yesterday his inguest in the case of Emeline C. Reynolds, who was murdered in a room of the Grand Hotel early on Aug. 16, and for whose murder Dentist Samuel J. Kennedy is under arrest. The courtroom was crowded with spectators anxious to get a look at Kennedy, who was brought over from the Tombs at 10:30 o'clock. He looked cool and collected, and smiled as he shook hands with Manny Friend, his counsel. Kannedy's father and father-in-law were in court, as were also the father and mother and several of the friends of the murdered girl.

Most of the testimony was a repetition of that given in the West Fifty-fourth Street Police Court. Among the witnesses was Margaret Adams, the old negress empleyed by the Raynolds woman. She testified that her mistress left the house at 6 o'clock on the afternoon of Aug. 15, saying she would be back soon. The mext day, the witness said, she identified her amployer's body at the Grand Hotel. "Did she wear any jewelry when she was leaving the house?"

Yes, sir; she had her diamond earrings on."
Mr. Friend at this point cross-examined the riness.

"Mrs. Reynolds lived at the house with Mr. keynolds?" he asked.

"Yes, sir." was the reply.

"When did you see him last at the house?"

"On the Saturday before Mrs. Reynolds's eath. He lived at Long Branch. The police earched the house, but did not search the loset where I found the jewels ten days later."

"Kennedy, stand up in court," said Mr. briend.

Friend.
The dentest stood up and looked straight at e witness.

"Is that Mr. Reynolds?" asked Mr. Friend.
"No. sir." replied the witness.
"Did you ever see this man in the house, or dyou ever see him before you saw him in did you ever see him before you saw him in bourt?"

"I did not sir."

"That's all," said Mr. Friend, smiling at Kennedy, who smiled back.

At this juncture Assistant District Attorney McIntyre entered the courtroom and held a whispered conference with Assistant District Attorney Reilly, who conducted the prosecution, at the conclusion of which the latter announced that the District Attorney would refire from any active part in the investigation. Mr. McIntyre, it was said, was angry with the Coroner for bringing out evidence which, in his opinion, should have been withheld until the trial.

opinion, should have been withheld until the trial.

After Kennedy had been identified by employees of the Grand Hotel as the man who was with Miss Reynolds on the night preceding her murder, and other testimony considered by the police incriminatory had been introduced, Coroner Bausch charged the jury. After eleven minutes' consultation it brought in the following verdict:

"We flud that Empline C. Beynolds came to following verdict:

"We flud that Emeline C. Reynolds came to her death on the 16th day of August at the Grand Hotel by ordema and congestion of brain, dislocation of cervical vertebre, caused at the time and place aforesaid by receiving a blow inflicted by some person or persons unknown as the ury." Kennedy was then taken back to the Tombs.
He was displeased with the verdict and said:
"I should have been exonerated by the jury."
A little later, while on his way to his cell, he paid: I will sift this matter to the bottom at all

CEREBRATION ON LABOR DAY. Leedy Proclaims That the Day Should Be

Given to Thought and Contemplation. TOPERA, Kan., Aug. 30.-In the Labor Day roclamation John W. Leedy, the Populist

"Let the day be devoted to the consideration of the many pressing and perplexing problems connected with the forwarding of the interests of tollers. Let the employer and the employed meet on the common plane of humanity and meet on the common plane of humanity and mutual interest and discuss the means of advancing the welfare of all, free and untrammelled discussion being the greatest safeguard which can be thrown about our liberties. "We can then return to our homes and customary avocations and meditate on the many new ideas that will necessarily be suggested to us and determine what shall be done to advance labor to the position of dignity it is meetined to occupy in this great republic."

Bridge Entrance Plans Rejected. The plans submitted to Bridge Commissioner John L. Shea by the engineers of the various raffroad companies for increased facilities at the Brooklyn terminal of the bridge have been rejected on the ground that they would narrow Washington street at the bridge entrance and would make the entrance unsightly. He has not yet considered the plans for the additional loops on the New York side of the bridge. UNDUE PREJUDICE TO CHICAGO.

Interstate Commerce Decision Reaffirming Its Opinion as to Unjust Freight Charges. WARHINGTON, Aug. 30.-The Interstate Commerce Commission last January decided the case of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas against the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Company and other carriers and held that the Chicago and Northwestern Ballroad Company and various other railways entering Chipany and various other railways entering Chicago from the West and Southwest were making an unreasonable and unjust terminal charge of $2 a car for delivering live stock at the Union Stock Yards in Chicago, and that any greater charge than $1 a car for such service was unlawful under section 1 of the act to regulate commerce.

Delivering carriers at Chicago applied for a rehearing, alleging error in the conclusions set forth in the report and the opinion of the record the commission. Upon reconsideration of the record the commission to-day announced its decision on the petition for rehearing in an opinion prepared by Commissioner Prouty and held that there was no error in the original determination, and, further, that the charges complained of and any charge for the terminal service at Chicago in excess of $1 a car constituted undue prejudice to Chicago under section 3 of the statute.

United States Players Easily Defeat the Canadians. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30 .- Quite a large crowd was present to-day on the grounds of the Merion C. C. at Haverford to witness the con-cluding play in the annual international match between the United States and Canada. When play ceased yesterday the United States had made 250 against Canada's 38 for 3 wickets The remaining wickets fell quickly to-day, and the first inning was over for a total of 113.

This necessitated a follow-on, but in the second attempt the Canadians did little better, and their two innings' total fell short of that of the United States for one, and a victory for the latter by an inning was the result. The score:

B. King, run out.

A novel at-traction of the fair will be a night pyrotechnic display showing the bombardment and fall of Santiago. A kennel show, with the largest number of entries ever seen in Canada and in-cluding many American entries, will be held in connection with the exhibition. Is 5% Enough?

If you are able to put away something every week or month against that inevitable rainy day, you ought, of course, to be particular about two things: First, are your savings safe; and, second, do you get a fair interest upon your money? There are lots of ways of investing savings. Take those Government bonds, for example. It is hard to beat them for security, but they pay only 3%. Take the savings banks. They are sound and safe enoughat least the great majority are, but they pay only 31% to 4%. Now, The Franklin Society, which receives savings large or small (from fifty cents up to $5,000) pays 5%, in January and July of each year, upon sums of $10 and over, invested for more than thirty days. The Franklin Society is no novelty, by the way. It is over ten years old, has thousands of members, and has handled millions of small savings. It is worth investigating. C. O'CONOR HENNESSY, Secretary-Treasurer. WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

Condition of the Agricultural Staples to Various Parts of the Country. WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.-The weekly crop bul-etin issued by the Weather Bureau contains the following summary of crop conditions: Continued heavy rains have proved unfavor able in the south Atlantic and east Gulf States while drought prevails in parts of Texas, Arkan sas and Missouri, and generally throughout the States of the eastern Rocky Mountain slope The week has proved very favorable in the New England and in the middle Atlantic States, the lake region and generally throughout the contral valleys, the high temperatures favoring the rapid maturing of crops.

With the exception of parts of Kansas, Ne braska, Missouri and South Dakota, where the late crop has been injured by drought and excessive heat, the week has been very favorable for corn, which is maturing rapidly under faorable conditions throughout the central and northern parts of the country. In the southern ounties of Nebraska corn has ripened too rapidly under the high temperatures of this and the preceding week, and as a result a considerable part of the crop in that region of the State will be chaffy. Some cutting has been done in nearly all of the principal corn States. Harvesting and threshing of spring wheat continue in Oregon and Washington. In Washington threshing shows good yields, which, ington threshing shows good yields, which, however, have been somewhat lessened by poor crops of late wheat in some regions, as a result of the excessive heat of the first half of August, which has also injured the crop in Oregon.

The week has been very untavorable to cotton, especially over the enstern part of the cotton belt, where it has suffered from heavy rains, which have been continuous for the past month, causing rust, shedding and too rapid growth of stalk. In parts of North Carolina and over the central part of the cotton region conditions of the past week have been somewhat more favorable and the crop is improved in Tennessee, Missouri and parts of Mississippi and Arkansas. Cotton has also improved in central and northern Texas, but insects are causing damage in many localities, and premature opening and shedding are reported from the central and southern parts of the State.

Picking is becoming general in the northern part.

Except in New England, where warm, dry
